Watson, Mr. Paul Hollister, Mr. Dixon Nott and Mr. Lothrop Withington were the guests of Mr. Alan Lowrey, yesterday when he entertained at a picnic party at Kailhi Waa, the Sacred Valley.

Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop's Swimming Party.

Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop is entertaining a number of young folks at a swimming party this afternoon at her home at Waikiki. Among the invited guests are the Misses Elizabeth and Phoebe Carter, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss May Biven, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Chlorinda Low, Miss Margaret Center, Mr. Jack Galt, Mr. Carter Galt, Mr. Herman von Holt, Mr. Darton Garstin, Mr. Stephen Woodruff, Mr. Dixon Nott, Mr. Erling Hedemann, and Mr. Fred Schaefer.

Bowen-Fuller Nuptials.

Saint Clement's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding at half after eight o'clock Wednesday morning, when Miss Mary Fuller and Mr. Howard Lowen were united in marriage by the Rev. F. G. Williams. The church was tastefully decorated with a profusion of white daisies, and palms, ferns and mums. The bride wore a simple gown of lace and mill over white messaline, and a portrait had adorned with willow plumes. She did not carry a bridal bouquet, but wore a corsage bouquet of dainty roses. Mrs. Bowen's only attendant was her mother, Mrs. Wilson Blain Fuller, and Mr. Bowen was supported by Mr. Clifford White.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom. The young couple left in the Mauna Kea for the volcano, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen will be at home to their friends at 1915 Keenauk street after the first of September.

Miss Ruth Soper's Dinner.

Miss Ruth Soper was hostess at a most enjoyable dinner party Thursday evening for Mr. Alexander Anderson, who is soon to leave Honolulu to enter an eastern college. As Mr. Anderson is to take up his studies in Cornell the decorations were red and white, the college colors. A huge basket tied with red and white tulle and filled with her Russias formed the attractive centerpiece and the hand-painted place cards that harmonized with the color scheme were college graduates wearing the cap and gown.

The after-dinner hour was spent playing games. The prizes in the automobile romance were a box of candy and a package of chewing gum and they were given to Mr. Alexander Anderson and Miss Ruth Anderson. An American Beauty rose and a box of peanuts were prizes in the second game and they were given to Miss Dorothy Wood and Mr. Richard Wood.

Miss Soper's guests included Mr. Alexander Anderson, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Eloise Wichman, Mr. Dixon Nott, Mr. Richard Wood and Mr. John Galt.

Miss Genevieve Young's Card Party. Miss Genevieve Young was hostess at an informal card party on Wednesday afternoon. The prizes were American Beauty roses and were given to Miss Pauline Schaefer and Miss Phoebe Carter. The guests included Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Zepha Pischel, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss May Biven, Miss Juliette Atwater, Miss Daphne Damon, Miss Helen Jones, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Doris Taylor, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Miss Margaret Restarick, Miss Elizabeth Pratt, Miss Phoebe Carter and Miss Gladys Hobron.

Mrs. Klamp Entertains.

Mrs. Frederick Klamp gave a delightful swimming supper and dancing party Thursday evening at her beach home at Kahala. Among those present were Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Lee Morris, Captain and Mrs. Clifton Carter, Miss Geraldine Neuman, Miss Helen Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. George Potter, Miss Lady Macfarlane, Captain Hailte, Captain Townsend, Captain Barnett, Lieutenant Uilo, Lieutenant Schofield, Lieutenant Schofield, Mr. Gaylord, Lieutenant Little, Lieutenant Little, Lieutenant Campione and Captain Jackson.

Mrs. Ross Kingsbury's Bridge Party.

Mrs. Lee Morris was the complemented guest at a bridge party on Wednesday afternoon at which Mrs. Ross Kingsbury was hostess. The decorations were in old rose and a profusion of roses and ferns were arranged throughout the house. The prizes were Japanese wicker baskets, ornamented with silver flagree work and they were given to Mrs. Gerald Johnston, Mrs. Kirby Smith, Mrs. E. R. Gaylor and Mrs. Pratt. Mrs. Kingsbury's guests included Mrs. Lee Morris, Mrs. Neville, Mrs. Kirby Smith, Mrs. William P. Wooten, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. Douglas McDougall, Mrs. E. R. Gaylor, Mrs. Joseph E. Sheedy, Mrs. Gerald Johnston, Miss Barrie Gamble, Mrs. H. M. Herburn, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Francis Blakely McStocker, Mrs. E. W. Banker, Mrs. E. H. Cooke, Mrs. Clifton Carter, Mrs. Frederick Klamp and Miss Priscilla Elliott.

Miss Ethel McKenzie Becomes the Bride of Mr. Frank Hoogs.

A quiet wedding took place in Alameda on the twenty-fifth of June, when Miss Ethel McKenzie of that city became the bride of Mr. Frank L. Hoogs of Honolulu. The wedding was a quiet one, on the relatives and a few friends being present. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, Mr. George McKenzie. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white satin embroidered with beads and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her lace veil was caught with orange blossoms. Miss Juliet Atherton of Honolulu was the maid of honor. She wore a handsome gown of pale blue satin. Mr. William Hoogs, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Hoogs is well known in Honolulu, having lived here for nearly two years.

Mr. Hoogs is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoogs and for some years has been employed in the Bank of Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoogs have been spending their honeymoon in the northwest; they will return to Honolulu within the next fortnight and make their home in Manoa Valley.

It's a Love Match.

Her friends down the peninsula are saying that Dan Cupid has made a new woman out of Jenny Crocker; that is, the love-smitten maiden, they say, who was once whimsical, capricious and frivolous is no as sedate and prim as a Plerim daughter. According to reports from every reliable, authentic source Jennie Crocker has been touched by the divine spark. It used to be said that she was destined to bachelorhood because she was fearful of being married for her money. It is her good fortune to be loved by a man who has as much money as herself, and so their is the genuine love-match that isn't made every day. And ever since it was made the Californian heiress has been bubbling over with sentiment.—San Francisco Town Talk.

Her Fiance Arrives.

Malcolm Whitman arrived from the East in time to spend the Fourth with his fiancée at San Mateo, and the young couple are being entertained right and left. At the last moment Miss Crocker had decided not to go to Chicago for her brother-in-law-to-be's marriage to Miss Chatfield Taylor last week, but she welcomed her betrothed at the Oakland mole on his arrival and accompanied him to the Templeton Crockers who gave a large dinner in his honor on the fifth. The Crocker came all the way from Honolulu for sister Jennie's wedding and will return after Templeton has given the bride into the groom's keeping on the sixteenth. Mrs. Walter Martin has invited a house-party to Stag's Leap to meet the New Yorker who is carrying off the little California Lela.—San Francisco Town Talk.

PROF. HANNAH JENKINS TO ADDRESS WOMEN

Under the auspices of the College Club, tomorrow evening at Central Union church Professor Hannah T. Jenkins, director of the department of art and design in Pomona College, California, will deliver an address upon "Women to the Front." Mrs. Jenkins is herself a brilliant landscape and portrait painter and her department is one of Pomona College's strong points. This being her sabbatical year, she is touring the most picturesque countries for subjects for her art work. As a student under some of the most noted artists in Europe she won recognition in the Paris Salon years ago. Mrs. Jenkins is a lady of charming personality and address, accustomed to public speaking, and Honolulu is to be congratulated on having this opportunity of hearing her. While the ladies of the city are especially invited to be present tomorrow evening, gentlemen will be equally welcome.

WIFE SHOWS HOW TO TAME HUSBAND

Arrests Him and Then Brings His Waitress Friend to Prison

PORTLAND, Ore., June 16.—"Here's a man for whom for two weeks you've had a warrant for non-support. Put him in jail," commanded Mrs. Nellie Brewster, marching into the sheriff's office with her husband, Ben Brewster, in tow. "I found him mighty quick when I made up my mind to go after him myself."

Brewster was taken to the seventh floor of the courthouse and locked up. As soon as she had satisfied herself that he was safely incarcerated, Mrs. Brewster turned on her heel and walked downtown again. She went directly to a restaurant in which is employed the young woman she charges with having stolen her husband's affections. "Put on your hat and come with me. I want to show you where I put your sweetheart," the wife ordered.

The waitress protested, but all in vain. Mrs. Brewster threatened to make a scene in the establishment and the waitress, fearful of losing her job, went along. Up to the courthouse they traveled and straight to the seventh floor.

"Look at him. He's there in jail. I just brought you up so that you would know first hand where he was and not miss him tonight," Mrs. Brewster flung in the teeth of her rival. "He's ruined my life, but he is the father of my two babies. You say he has ruined your life. All right, you may be fooling me, but I'll take your word for it. You may go."

Mrs. Brewster refused the request of the waitress to be allowed to speak to the man in the case. She escorted her husband's waitress friend to the door of the courthouse, where they parted.

"On the way up from the room where I found them together, Ben was smoking a cigarette," said Mrs. Brewster in county court when her husband was before Judge Cleeton. "I ordered him to throw it away, and he did it after I had told him that he was breaking the hearts of his father and mother and that he had no respect for them or for me. I said 'Ben, maybe this will be the last two blocks you will ever walk with me in your life, but you're going to respect me for as long as it takes us to walk it. Throw that cigarette away.'"

Judge Cleeton postponed the hearing after informing Brewster that he would require him to put up a bond for $500 to guarantee the payment of $8 a week to his wife and babies, the younger of whom is just four months old.

"You may go back to your mother at Umatilla. There is no necessity of your staying and adding to your expense. Your husband has practically pleaded guilty," the judge said to Mrs. Brewster.

BANANA CLOTH

It has been left to the Chinese to teach us how the tons of banana fiber thrown on the rubbish heap every year can be converted into banana cloth and sold at a most remunerative price.

The process of manufacture is very simple. One-year old plants are selected and the stock in unrolled and steamed over cauldrons of boiling water till soft. It is a simple matter then to remove the green outer skin by passing strips of the stalk through an instrument provided with two scrapers.

The fiber thus obtained is placed in cloth and pounded in order to drive out excess moisture, and is next cleaned and twisted into yarn for weaving. Banana cloth is said to be eminently suitable for tropical wear and is very durable. At present the price would seem to be almost prohibitive, as a roll of banana cloth five yards long and one yard wide sells for about $5.70. As the enterprise is a brand new one high prices are to be

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Alakea and King streets. The minister will give both sermons at the Christian Church tomorrow. The morning sermon will be upon the subject, "In the Image and Likeness of God,"—a sermon for disappointed folks. The evening sermon will be "Imitators of What?" We believe that something deeper than cultural agencies is necessary to curb the world's passion for sin; we believe that the gospel of Jesus Christ is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believes. When we invite you to hear the sermons of this pulpit and participate in the services of this church it is with the desire that you understand that in everything we do we are aiming to touch the vital spot of the world's sickness.

The Bible school session opens at 9:45 in the morning with classes for all ages. The morning sermon with the communion will occur at 11. The Sloan mission of this church in the Kewalo district conducts its Sunday school at 3 in the afternoon. Residents of that section and others interested are invited to attend. The young peoples' meeting is held at the church at 6:30 in the evening and the sermon for the night service at 7:30. Of course you will receive a cordial welcome; if we did not intend to give it to you, we wouldn't invite you to come.

The minister, David C. Peters, can be found at the church from 12:30 to 2:00 Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and can always be reached by phone 3797. Residence, Sixth avenue, Kaimuki.

EYES ON CZAR AND KAISER

Meeting of Two Rulers Is Expected to Prove Important

BERLIN, Germany, June 29.—German diplomats are attaching great importance to the approaching meeting between the czar and the kaiser in the Finnish "Skerries." As both the sovereigns will be attended by their leading ministers, it is accepted as certain that the meeting will result in an exhaustive exchange of views on all the most important problems of European politics, including the Dardanelles question, upon which Germany is more inclined to sympathize with the Russian views. Hence the meeting is expected to result in a closer understanding between the two powers, with a corresponding cooling of the Franco-Russian friendship.

A further object of the meeting is believed to be to reach an agreement to act in accord in any step the powers may take toward ending the Turco-Italian war.

PROGRESS IN IRELAND

Some interesting statistics about Irish industries are given in a recent issue of the consular reports. Under the land purchase acts of 1885 and subsequent years the Government has advanced more than $486,680,000, and within the next thirty years a large proportion of Irish farmers will own their farms. Three-fourths of the Irish population are engaged in agriculture, and there is a distinct improvement in the rotation of crops. In 1910 there was an abundant potato crop in the north of Ireland, and a large surplus of this crop was sent to the south of England and to France. The largest acreage devoted to crops in Ireland is in oats and hay. Approximately four-fifths of the world's linen is produced in the province of Ulster.

In 1911 the linen trade showed a falling off, but the prospects of 1912
